Goldilocks Learns Her Lesson

There was a little girl with golden hair in a small town. Her name was Goldilocks. She liked to share photos on social media. At first, she posted everyday things, but people didn't give her many likes.

"What should I do to get more likes?" she thought. "I know! I should post funny pictures."

Now, her posts were getting a lot of likes, and Goldilocks was happy. Her followers, however, soon got bored. So, she decided to post more shocking pictures.

One day, she was taking a walk in the forest and found a cottage.
She knocked on the door, but there was no answer. It was getting dark, and it started to rain. She opened the door and walked inside.

There were three bowls of soup on a table. She ate the smallest one and took selfies with a smile. There were also three chairs. She jumped on the smallest one again and again. It broke, but she didn't care.

"It's so fun!" shouted Goldilocks.

She took selfies again and posted all the selfies on social media. Then, she went upstairs and found three beds. She felt tired and fell asleep in the smallest bed.

About an hour later, three bears came home.

"Someone ate my soup and broke my chair!" cried Baby Bear.

They went upstairs and saw Goldilocks. Mother Bear found a phone next to Goldilocks.

"This is terrible! Look at all these posts of our home," shouted Mother Bear angrily.

Goldilocks jumped up in surprise.

"You broke into our house and posted these pictures without our permission. Don't you know these things are wrong?" said Father Bear.

"Please forgive me. I'm so sorry, and I'll clean your house every day until the end of the summer," said Goldilocks.

All summer long, Goldilocks worked hard. On the last day, Goldilocks said to Father Bear, "I deleted all my posts of your cottage, so please don't worry."

"You still don't understand. Other people already shared them on social media. Your posts will live on forever," said Father Bear.

"Oh, I didn't think about that," said Goldilocks. "From now on, I'll think twice before I press POST."