Listen and Talk A

1

M: You look upset. What's the matter?

G: I broke a flower pot in the garden. I'm sorry, Dad.

M: Oh, don't worry. It's okay.

We can clean the garden together.

2

G: Isaac, are you okay?

B: I'm worried about my dog.

He isn't eating a lot these days.

G: I'm sorry to hear that.

He needs to go to the animal hospital.

3

G: I'm worried about my little brother.

He plays video games too much.

B: Why don't you play with him outside?

That can help.

G: You are right. I'll play soccer with him on weekends.

Listen and Talk B

Eric: What's the matter, Bomin?

Bomin: I'm too nervous about tomorrow's basketball game, Eric.

Eric: I feel just like you, but we practiced a lot.

Bomin: I missed the ball many times during the last game. So I'm worried about tomorrow's game.

Eric: Don't worry. We all learn from our mistakes.

You'll do better this time.

Bomin: Thanks, Eric. I feel better now.

Review

G: What's the matter?

B: I'm worried about Jisu. She is sick in the hospital.

G: I heard the news. Let's visit her this weekend.

B: Good idea.

G: Hi, I'm Maria from Guatemala. In my country, many children have worry dolls. Look at my worry doll. I tell her about my worries and keep her under my pillow. Like this. Now I'm worried about the weather on my camp day next week. So I'll tell her about it. During the night, she will take away my worries!

Growing Season

El and Jo were the smallest students in the class.

They were always together. They even watered the plants together in the class because they could not reach the pots alone. However, in the spring, something was DIFFERENT. Jo grew TALLER! Jo was taller than El, so Jo could water the plants alone. El felt smaller every day.

On the last day of school, Mr. Diaz said, "Class, you can take a flower home and care for it over the summer." All the students ran to the window. El's classmates reached for the pots over tiny El. They took all the pots with colorful flowers.

El took the last pot. It had the smallest plant with no flowers. "I feel just like you, little plant," said El.

Mr. Diaz looked at El and said, "That's an aster plant.

In time, it'll grow and have beautiful flowers."

"But it's just a little green plant," said El. She was not so sure.

"You can have my zinnia plant," Jo said to El, "I'll be at my grandma's all summer."

"I'll plant my aster and your zinnia side by side," El said.

"They'll be good friends—just like us!" said Jo. El smiled.

El planted the flowers in her garden. It was growing season. All summer long, she cared for them.

On the last day of summer, Jo came to El's house. El and Jo ran to the garden and suddenly stopped.

Something was DIFFERENT! There were flowers on the aster ... and El grew TALLER, TOO!
