

Lesson 4 Journey Through Korean Culture

[의사소통 기능]

- 선호 표현하기

A: Which do you prefer, hot soup or cold noodles?

B: I prefer hot soup.

- 희망 · 기대 표현하기

I'm excited to go to Busan next week!

[언어 형식]

- 접속사 before/after

I want to wash my hair after we watch ssireum .

- 수동태

The rail bike is powered by electricity.

Listen A

1

G Which do you prefer, tteokbokki or pajeon?

B Well, I prefer tteokbokki. How about you?

G I prefer tteokbokki, too. I love spicy food.

2

G Which do you prefer, tuho or neolttwigi?

B I prefer tuho. It looks more fun. How about you?

G I'd like to try neolttwigi. I love jumping.

3

G Which do you prefer, making traditional Korean masks or fans?

B I want to try both. How about you?

G I prefer making traditional Korean masks. They look cool.

Listen B

B Today, I'm excited to tell you about an interesting program. The title of the program is "Teen Palace Guides." Through this program, you will learn about the stories of traditional Korean palaces. You will also practice explaining the stories in English. Finally, you will give tours to tourists in English. Join us and become a Teen Palace Guide!

Watch

W I'm excited to go to Busan next week! We need to start planning our trip.

B Sounds great, Mom! What should we do first?

W Why don't we visit Haeundae?

B That's a good idea. I heard that it has a nice beach and lots of things to enjoy like busking.

W Yes, right. How about food? Anything in mind?

B Let's try some famous local dishes in Busan. I've heard about dwaejigukbap and milmyeon.

W Oh, what are they?

B Dwaejigukbap is pork soup with rice and milmyeon is a cold noodle dish. Which do you prefer, hot soup or cold noodles?

W I prefer hot soup.

B Me, too! I'm excited to experience all these new things with you!

Wrap Up

G Which do you prefer, watching movies or reading books?

B I prefer watching movies. I'm excited to watch a new movie this weekend. How about you?

G I prefer reading books.

4과 본문

Vlog in Gangneung

Eunji Hi, everyone, I'm Eunji. I'm at Gangneung Station. I am here to meet my friend Rebecca and her brother Paul. Oh, there they are!

Rebecca It's so good to see you again! I'm excited to look around Gangneung together.

Jeongdongjin Rail Bike Tour

Eunji We are at Jeongdongjin. We are riding a rail bike before we have lunch. The rail runs along the beach, so the view is nice.

Rebecca You can say that again. Look at the blue sea!

Paul It's beautiful. The rail bike is also powered by electricity. Let's try it!

Eunji Wow, it's getting faster.

Gangneung Central Market

Eunji We are now at the Gangneung Central Market. This is a traditional market that sells many kinds of delicious food. We ordered ongsimi and makguksu. Ongsimi is hot soup with potato balls and makguksu is cold buckwheat noodles.

Rebecca Paul, which do you prefer, ongsimi or makguksu?

Paul I prefer ongsimi. The potato balls are chewy and delicious. They also look cute.

Rebecca I like makguksu. The noodles are spicy and tasty.

Eunji Do you want to try sundubu ice cream for dessert? Sundubu is soft tofu.

Paul You mean the ice cream is made from soft tofu?

Eunji Yes. I believe it was invented by people in the Gangneung area.

Rebecca I'm so excited to try it!

Danoje Festival

Eunji Okay everyone, we are at the Danoje Festival. It celebrates the day of Dano. People in the past wished for a good harvest on this day after they planted rice. Interesting events are taking place here.

Paul Look! Two men are trying to bring each other to the ground. What are they playing?

Eunji They are playing traditional Korean wrestling. It is called ssireum.

Rebecca I want to wash my hair in changpo water after we watch ssireum. I heard it will make our hair shiny.

Eunji That's true. Changpo is a traditional herb. In the past, people believed that it kept bad luck away!

Paul Sounds wonderful!

Eunji We are walking on Anmok Beach. Can you hear the waves and music from the cafes? I hope you can also feel this pleasant energy of nature and culture.

Thanks for joining me on this trip. I will be back with more fun content. Good bye!