Express My Thoughts

G There was a famous painting in the museum, but it disappeared. I saw four people leaving the museum. They were Ms. Smith, Ms. Green, Mr. Lee, and Mr. Roberts. One of them is the thief. I think the person who stole the painting is Ms. Green. The first clue is her beautiful long dress. She could hide the painting in her dress. The second clue is an earring on the floor. She was wearing the same earring on her right ear. What's your guess?

Wrap Up

G I'm looking for my cat, Bori. She is missing.

B Oh, I'm sorry to hear that. What does she look like?

G She has short and gray fur. She has blue eyes.

B I'll help you. Let's look for your cat together.

G Thanks!

A Missing Cake

Today was Dad's birthday. As a secret gift, Mom baked him a cake. She wrapped the cake in a box and put it on the table in the kitchen. Then she went out to buy candles at 11. When she came back home one hour later, she found that the box was empty. Someone ate the whole cake!

Mom called Ms. Jones to find the person who ate the cake. Ms. Jones was a wise old lady who lived next door. Everyone in town came to her when they were in trouble.

Ms. Jones came with her sweet smile. "Don't worry! Let's find out the big eater!"

She asked Mom, "Who was in the house this morning?"

"My children, Harry, Carol, and Tom."

First, Ms. Jones spoke with Harry, the oldest son, "Someone ate your mom's cake. What did you do this morning?"

"I played soccer, and I came back home around 11. I saw the box on the table and opened it. There was a cake inside, but I didn't eat it."

"What did you do after that?"

"I just went to my room."

"Hmm.... Then why do you have crumbs around your mouth?"

"Oh, I ate some chocolate cookies because I was hungry."

Next, Ms. Jones talked to Carol, the daughter. She stayed home all morning.

Ms. Jones asked, "What were you doing between 11 and 12?"

"I was reading a detective novel in the living room. I went to the kitchen to drink some water and found the box on the table. But I couldn't see the cake inside the box. You know, I'm trying to lose weight these days. So, I don't eat any dessert. Most of all, I don't like chocolate cake. Too much sugar and butter in it."

"When did you go to the kitchen?"

"I don't know the exact time, but I saw Tom coming out of the kitchen."

Finally, Ms. Jones met Tom, the youngest son.

"Tom, you like your mom's cake, right?"

"Yeah, I like it. Actually, I smelled Mom baking a cake in the morning. But I had a stomachache, so I stayed in bed."

"Did you go to the kitchen?"

"Yes, I went to the kitchen to take some medicine at about 11:30. The box was open, so I could see the cake in it. Then I closed the box."

Ms. Jones smiled and said, "The person who lied ate the cake."
