Living for a Month in New York City

Last summer, I spent a month at my cousin's place in New York City. Each day I enjoyed the city, and it was an unforgettable experience.

New York City is famous for its high-rise buildings, but it also has beautiful parks. As my cousin's apartment was near Central Park, I often went there. I attended a free yoga class and rowed a boat on the lake. Sometimes, I lay down on the grass and watched people passing by. I once saw a dog walker walking ten dogs at the same time. It was amazing!

After spending time in the park, I often visited a famous bagel shop near the park. It had more than 20 toppings. Among the toppings that I tried, bacon and cheese were my favorites.

I enjoyed visiting museums such as the Met and MoMA. They had many famous works of art that I saw in art books. At the Met, there was a room full of paintings by Vincent van Gogh. I could not believe that I was looking at his works of art up close. In another room, I saw people copying Edgar Degas' paintings. I also copied one of his paintings, Dancer. It was quite a special experience.

Watching The Lion King on Broadway was the most unforgettable moment. When I saw the colorful stage, I felt like I was in the middle of an African jungle. The actors danced like real animals and sang in perfect harmony. In the last scene, the hero Simba showed his baby lion to the world, and tears rolled down my face. When I came out, huge, colorful signs were shining brightly. At that moment, I knew I would never forget this amazing city.
